

Elizabeth Graves, Attorney

Suite 470 Fox Tower
805 SW Broadway Portland, Oregon 97205

[direct] 503-546-4634
elizabeth@RichardsonWang.com

Elizabeth's dedication and tenacious work ethic allow her to pinpoint strategic solutions for clients. She analyzes each case with focus and evaluates every component of a case with care. Before joining Richardson Wang LLP, Elizabeth served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Karin J. Immergut, as well as an extern to the Honorable Michael H. Simon, at the U.S. District Court for the District of Oregon. During her clerkship, Elizabeth acquired an in-depth understanding of the courts which she uses to effectively advocate for clients.

Elizabeth also enjoys tackling complex civil litigation matters. During law school, she worked as a research assistant to Professor Robert Klonoff, with whom she researched complex litigation and discovery issues. Friendly and outgoing, Elizabeth approaches clients with sincerity and is committed to seeing clients reach positive outcomes.

Professional Memberships

- Oregon State Bar

Admitted to Practice

- Oregon

Education

- Lewis and Clark Law School, J.D., cum laude
 - Managing Editor of the Lewis & Clark Law Review
 - Cornelius Honors Society
 - Pro Bono Award Recipient
 - Public Interest Law Project Award Recipient
 - Honors Distinction, Legal Writing
- University of Tennessee, B.A.

Publications

- "So You Are Saying There's A Chance: Strategies for Avoiding Compelled Arbitration," 23 Lewis & Clark Law Review 1435 (2020)

